Farrar, Straus and Giroux, 2009. Book Condition: New. Brand New, Unread Copy in Perfect Condition. A+ Customer Service! Summary: Praise for If I Were Another, Winner of the PEN USA Literary Award for Translation "No poet in our time has confronted the violent tides of history with greater humanity or greater artistic range than Mahmoud Darwish. This collection, masterfully edited and translated by Fady Joudah, bears witness to the unceasing development and deepening of Darwish's practice over the last two decades of his life. Here the lyric, the elegiac, and the epic conjoin in one voice encompassing self and other, desire and memory, the olive's tang and the ashes of exile." Michael Palmer, author of Company of Moths "A world-class poet . . . Darwish has not only remade a national consciousness; he has reworked language and poetic tradition to do so." Fiona Sampson, The Guardian "Poetry for Darwish provides not simply an access of unusual insight or a distant realm of fashioned order, but a harassing amalgam of poetry and collective memory, each pressing on the other . . . The conventional and the ethereal, the historical and the transcendently aesthetic combine to provide an astonishingly concrete sense of going beyond what anyone has ever lived through in reality." Edward Said, Grand Street "Here we have in one glorious volume the reach and the depth of Darwish's lyric epics that individually, repeatedly, and cumulatively shifted our understanding of what poetry can accomplish. In his lucid and compelling translations, Joudah offers us a gesture of unequalled fraternity in lines that mirror and move in loyalty to the birth of new poems." Breyten Breytenbach, author of All One Horse "[Darwish's] best political poetry, because it is love poetry, is uncannily intimate . . . At times it is frankly mystical, imagining a union that recalls the rapt ecstasies of Sufi aints." Robyn Cresswell, Harper's Magazine "[Darwish]...
