Excerpt: . . . and only slightly dispelled by the later state WILL SBRVIA PROVOKE WAR ment from the new Servian Prime Minister Novakovitch. Proximately, not ultimately, the situation is due to the violation by Austria-Hungary of the Treaty of Berlin of 1878. That treaty gave to the Empire military and civil control of Bosnia and Herzegovina, the westernmost provinces once ruled by the Turkish Sultan. Six hundred years ago there was a Big Servia. It embraced what we now know as Servia and also Bosnia, Herzegovina, and other provinces. During the intervening centuries of degradation Servians have never forgotten their ancient glory. Racially and linguistically they are united to the Montenegrins, who inhabit part of the eastem shore of the Adriatic. But the Turkish sanjak or district of Novipazar separates Servia from Montenegro. Over this district also Austria was allowed certain rights. It voluntarily relinquished those rights...
