XV IN THE WILDS the sun was now up, continues the diary on April 16, 1908, and in a half hour Bernaldino began to halloo and tell who he was and with whom he came. He got out near where the first house was, but on going up to the place found no one there. We made no attempt to see anyone at the next place we passed, for it was there that the soldiers had done their burning; the place is called Alipaiyan, and in a grove of palms. In an hour we drew up to a place where we could see boothlike structures high up on poles about a half mile from our left. Presently we beheld people scurrying away, but after much hallooming Bernaldino succeeded in halting two. He went to where they were, and after a short talk came...
